A critical point in building high quality frames is the attention given to the choice, proper fitting and joining of tubing and lugs.
