FINE HANDCRAFTED CUSTOM BICYCLES

Framebuilder Lennard Zinn appreciates the time, energy and commitment you put into your cycling. As a former member of the National Cycling Team, he understands that your cycling means too much to you to not get the performance and comfort you expect. He knows that there is no satisfaction in having a bike that requires effort to control, leaves your body aching afterwards or gives you any doubt about its alignment or structural integrity. That is why Lennard builds bicycles for the discriminating rider who demands the utmost in performance and comfort.

Nothing rides like a
ZINN

Karen Hornbostel, 1984 National 30-34 Time Trial Champion Zinn Women's Racing Team
One of six National medals won on Zinn frames.

By combining his background in physics with the special knowledge gained from building frames for the Zinn Women's Racing Team, Lennard has created a design formula that results in unparalleled handling capabilities. With customers ranging from 4'11" to 6'8", Zinn frames have proven themselves in competition and pleasure riding.

Zinn custom frames are made to measure for your body type and the type of riding you do. Your body measurements are matched with specific requests you have about performance and styling in picking tubing and design. Your frame is fully mitred, silver-soldered and precisely aligned, producing a bicycle that tracks perfectly. Great care is taken with the finish work, resulting in fine lug lines, delicately sculpted dropouts and fork ends and the unique Zinn-pantographed polished brass seatstay ends. Full braze-ons are included, from double water bottle braze-ons to the original Zinn pump-stop/racing-number braze-on combination -- and everything in between. The paint pattern of your choice is then applied to your frame, and covered with two clear coats to give a spectacular finish.

Beyond the structural integrity and attention to detail, you will discover the true difference of a Zinn: the ride. We know that riding your Zinn, you will find that riding a bicycle is everything you thought it could be.
